MOLEWOOD OUTLOOK

AUTUMN 1995

BENGEO DEL SOL.....?

PHEW ! Who would have believed that, here in untropical Bengeo, would be sweltering in temperatures in the 90's (sorry—30's Cent. or.....Celsius) in July and August - amongst the highest temperatures in the world at the time ?
Whether you were chasing the sun in Crete, Ionian seas, Baleriacs, Canaries, Cyprus, California or the Algarve, the chances were that you were no hotter - if as hot -as Margate, Macclesfield, or.....Molewood ! Were we prepared for such long spells of intense heat our neat little double glazed carpeted homes would be shuttered, stone or tiled floors and, probably, air-conditioned.

Now back to 'normality' and a big 'thank you to our artist of the season Charlotte McCarthy of Cowper Crescent for reminding us that, when the bumper summer nights are but a memory , late October is when things go bump in the night and H A L L O W E'E N is upon us once more.

£5 for extra fireworks,Charlotte (should buy a sparkler !)

Talking of sparkles here is a chance for Molewoodians and friends to enjoy a Christmas evening amongst the glitter and glitz of London and Oxford Street on

SUNDAY 17th. December: PANORAMIC COACH TOUR OF LONDON

A great night out seeing the Thames and all the lights of London at this time of year including a fish and chip supper at a riverside pub. and all for £15.50 per person .
If you wish to go please contact Pam Lutner at 107, Cowper Crescent (Tel. 581329) immediately as bookings have to be made well in advance .

momomomomomomomomomomomo

BACK to the pre-heatwave days of May when, as always, we had an excellent turn out for the ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING at Bengeo Primary School, followed by some scintilating entertainment by the talented Doctor Robertson which went down a treat, as did the victuals and vino prepared by your hard-working committee and friends. A raffle was held, the profits of which went to support Dr. Robertson's charity which finances holidays for the disabled.
We will cover most of the items raised at the meeting and publish the audited accounts, prepared by our Treasurer, Dennis Goodrum.
Our late secretary, Margaret Greenfield has moved to Wadesmill pastures new - with our thanks for all her help. A big welcome on to the committee to Lodge Close residents Malcolm Scott and Jane Digweed .

A big thanks to all our members who have paid their subs with a cheerful smile - at least 95% of the whole area covered.
May we say, with all due immodesty, that we are the longest serving Residents' Association in Hertfordshire, having been in existence for.....34 years, no less !
Yet.....the annual sub. is still being kept at only £1. 50 per household.

NEW HEAD TEACHER

We extend a warm welcome to SUSAN FORD the new Head Teacher who took over from Shirley Patey at the commencement of the current term.
Mrs. Ford has this message:-
" In my previous post as Head of a school in Hemel Hempstead I established close links with our local Residents' Association. I know it is not easy having a school on your doorstep !
As the school is an integral part of the community I hope that if any minor problems arise residents will contact me so that they can be resolved quickly.
Although it will take me a little time to get to know people locally I am really looking forward to working in such a pleasant part of Hertfordshire."

momomomomomomomomomomomo

CARS

Parking.....IS there anything more that can be said on this subject ?
Not just in Bengeo but all over the world cars present a problem !
But it might be a good idea to bone up occasionally on the Highway Code which will remind us that the following are situations where parking or waiting is dangerous and/or illegal. Many are, of course, obvious.....aren't they ?
Do NOT park on:

The carriageway of a motorway (or the hard shoulder, except in an emergency)
A pedestrian crossing, including the area marked by zig-zag lines.
A clearway.
A road marked with doub*le* white centrelines (even if one is broken)
A bus, tram or cycle lane during its hour of operation.
Where yellow or red lines indicate restrictions.
On a footpath, pavement or cycle track.
Near a school entrance !
At or near a bus stop or taxi rank.
On the approach to a level crossing.
Within 10 metres of a junction, except in an authorised parking space.
Near the brow of a hill or hump bridge.
Opposite a traffic island or, if it would cause an obstruction, another parked vehicle.
Where the kerb has been lowered to help wheelchairs.
In front of an entrance to a property.
In a parking space reserved for specific users (Orange badge holders, residents, etc.) unless entitled to do so. Leave extra space when parking next to or behind a vehicle displaying a disabled person's badge.

At night, facing against the direction of traffic flow.
At night, without sidelights. Cars, goods vehicles not exceeding 1525kg unladen, invalid carriages and motorcycles may be parked without lights on a road with a speed limit of 30 mph or less, but only if they are at least 10 metres from any junction, close to the kerb and facing in the direction of traffic flow or in a recognised parking space.
In Fact...anywhere which could cause a hazard to others.....like parking on a bend ( some Mums please note !)

ALL common sense, you say ? Maybe, but tbis can be a rare commodity when rushing off for a meeting, catching the train or trying to get little Johnuy to school on time ! Please be careful when opening the car door and check there is no traffic approaching, especially cyclists.
Following more complaints from residents of parking on grass verges, the committee have suggested that some bollards could be placed in appropriate areas. The Engineers Dept. may also arrange to paint double yellow lines on the corners of Sacombe Road! The Wick and Cowper Crescent!The Avenue

The parking bays at the shops are still a problem, especially for the shopkeepers who often cannot park in their own bays. If you are not shopping please do not take up valuable space.

Many older estates in Hertford have no garages or space who's residents would love to have the facilities that most of us enjoy so, if you have a driveway - please use it !

SADLY we are no nearer obtaining a special surface for parking on verges in WOODHALL CLOSE.
No Money !

BENGEO STREET
Traffic calming measures are being sought by local residents including parents of school children. These include more speed restriction signs and changes in road surface colours warning drivers to take extra care.

SECURITY: Finally, in the U.K. it is estimated that a car is broken into every 13 seconds.
(We believe that the owner is none too pleased !)
Drive carefully !

momomomomomomomo

Congratulations to JUNE SMITH ,committee member Gilbert Smith's wife, for an O.B.E. awarded in the new years honours list for her services to OFWAT !

.CARAVANS

Dotted around the estate are quite a number of caravans and what could be nicer on one of those lovely '95 summer weekends than to go away with your 'home' to some remote picturesque corner of these isles ?
But how SAFE is it from vandals or even .....thieves ?
There are some excellent ideas for immobilising and fitting alarms to your 'van in leaflets which are available from David and Pat. Brooks ,our local Crime Prevention Panel representatives, who would be delighted to supply you with more information.
(Tel. no.....587809)

METRICATION MADNESS !

When shopping 'Down-Town', Molewood (The Avenue shops !) remember that 'feet' are now only objects on which you put shoes, pounds are just £'s and gallons are reserved for hats - the ten gallon type. Once more this century we are plunged into Euro-terminology as imperial measures begin to fade and we take up.....metres, kilos and litres (not to mention Celsius), although some have been familiar to us for some time now.
As before, it is the older residents who may have problems with the new measures, so if you have an elderly neighbour, particularly if they are living alone, give them some help.
50g. =1 ¾ oz. (250g. is about ½lb.) :100 ml. = 3 ½ fl. oz. (1 litre is just over 2pints).
..... etc. etc. !
The two systems will run alongside each other for some time and you can still buy in good old lbs. and oz's where goods are not pre-packed.
All the supermarkets are providing free leaflets with conversion guides.
Well....at least we will get our doorstep pinta- for a while (and in 'The Greyhound'!)

(Give the Eurocrats an inch and they'll take a mile - or.....1.6093 Kilometres !)

momomomomomomomomomo

TIPPLE TOUR !

A tour of McMullens was an event that we hoped would be brewing up for residents. Unfortunately it has all gone a little flat as they are booked solid for a year ahead and the maximum permitted number per tour is 14.
So if you would like a free sample or two and have a day free in.....'98--'99.
We know that our friends in U3A have arranged some visits so, hopefully, some of our members may have been fortunate enough to have done this tour with them.
If not, don't be bitter, we will try again later.
Cheers!

SEATS

We are hoping to have a least three more seats strategically sited on the Estate for foot weary pedestrians.

AREAS OF CONCERN

There are matters concerning all of us which we, the committee, are constantly monitoring. Following unsatisfactory reponses to our letters to the various authorities ' our man' , armed to the hilt with copies of past correspondence, marched bravely up to the hallowed Council halls to face .....the faceless !

He returned unscathed, if not entirely satisfied, and here is the synopsis of his report:-

Dog Fouling Signs:

New ones are on order,

Fencing - Sacombe Road:

Council do not consider this a safety issue, although it is down for consideration for next year.

The Wick:

Survey being carried out on road surface, but will not be given high priority.

The road joints are crumbling caused by weeds. Old weed killer can no longer be used, but is being replaced by a contact weed killer.

Desborough Close (Paths):

In very bad state after earlier repairs, but should still be covered by warranty.

Shops - Cycle Parking:

The Council are looking into the possibility of providing some bicycle parking facilities at the Molewood shops. Bikes at the moment, are often laid on the ground causing a dangerous obstruction, particularly for the senior folk when trying to get access to the shops. We hope this meets with everyones approval as safety must be the first priority.

School - Parking:

The Council say there is no need to increase the yellow lines or to impose a limited parking time.

This would involve police or traffic wardens and would also give local police an unpopular image. (A survey may soon be sent out from the school to try and ascertain how many children are driven to and from school)

Shops - Parking on grass verges.

The Council does not believe we have a problem, but bollards might be considered.

Play Area - Re- surfacing:

The Council will not play ball here as they say that present grass covered surfaces comply with British Standards safety regulations.

These replies, in general, do not constitute satisfactory solutions to these problems and we are writing to the Council accordingly. If you feel strongly on any of these issues, please do not hesitate to also write direct. In the meantime also please bring to our attention any other issues about which you feel strongly.

DOGS

With the sweltering heat of the summer it has been even more important to keep the streets free from animal excreta.

A pat on the back for dog owners who have kept their dogs up to scratch.(In the dog-house to the persistent offenders)

There are now more dog bins, so please use them.

Dog Wardens are on the prowl in most areas now .
Many will have seen a recent ' Mercury ' article 'Pooper snooper dirty on pets' foul habits' . Pet 'Detectives ' will be scenting out offenders and the Council have issued forms for anyone to complete giving any details of offenders such as car registration numbers or, if the 'culprit' doesn't drive (!), other details which might help to trace the owner. Wehope to have a supply of these but please return completed forms direct to the Council Dog Warden , Environmental Health Dept.(01279) 655261 . -NOT us.
Pooch may be man's - er person's - best friend but, with fines of up to £500 which could be levied, a very expensive friend !
" Walkies "....

house and garden

TREES AND BUSHES

Overhanging trees and bushes are still a hazard in some areas and, where the Local Authority are the 'culprits' ,action is being taken.
But, if you thank that yours might be a danger and cause injury, especially to children and the elderly, then--don't spare the secateurs !

GARDENING ITEMS

The committee now has the following items for hire at £1 per day:-

Lawn Spreader and Drain Rods (available at 22 Cowper)
Tree Pruner and Lawn Areator (" "107 ")

The drain rods should be very popular, especially at this time of year, as they also convert to a gutter cleaning implement.

SHOW GARDENS-COMPETITIONS

Rooting for success, as always, Pam Lutner and her garden appear in full colour and bloom (respectively) in a September issue of the 'Mercury' as did SUE and DAVE KENNY of The Avenue who came FIRST for the 3rd. year running in ' The Small Garden' category of 'Hertford in Bloom'. Congratulations to them and Pam, who's garden always makes us green with envy , and who raked in 1st. Prize in the 'Medium Garden ' section.

SUMMER/AUTUMN GARDEN WINNERS

2nd.	Mrs. Moy	18, Desborough Close
3rd.	Mr. & Mrs. Jones	93, Cowper Crescent

For winning the battle against the long drought.....Congratulations !

To Blossom once more.....GARDEN CENTRE ?

The burning question (particularly on the 7th September !)..is, What will they do with the old Garden Centre ? The owners of Country Gardens have successfully applied for Planning permission to re-instate the old site off Sacombe Road which should provide a 2,300 sq. m. building with glass on 3 sides and 132 car parking spaces.
It would be nice to have a centre locally once more BUT we understand that this is only a routine renewal of a planning application and it may be some considerable time before we can buy our onion sets again 'on the doorstep '.

momomomomomomomomomomo

RUBBISH !

To less pleasant aromas....Tylers, the dustbin people have been reported as dropping rubbish on our almost-clean streets.
If you see this happening to any significant degree, please advise a committee member and we will take it up with them.
Also, if you are going on a long holiday please try and avoid leaving your bin overflowing as it can cause some hot air to rise with neighbours, especially after standing for several weeks in the shimmering heat of a '95 summer !

THE BOYS FROM BENGEO.....AGAIN.

CHRIS. SUTTON of 106, Cowper Crescent certainly enthralled us with the first instalment of his Far Eastern adventure. Most will have read the full account of his RALEIGH INTERNATIONAL EXPEDITION in the 'Mercury', so we will not publish the second instalment in this edition. But we are sure that if anyone wishes to read his entire account Chris. will be only too pleased to let them see it.

And from No. 24.....
Ex-Richard Hale scholar KEVIN BISHOP, having completed his A level studies, has cut his old school ties and gone 'way down south' to Georgia's capitol city Atlanta to take up a basketball scholarship in America, a big change from being a star player for Ware Rebels.
Vertically unchallenged Kevin left these sun-baked shores on the 23rd. August to be on the ball with the top rated Georgia University rather than the Budweiser League's 'Sheffield Sharks' by whom he was also offered a place.

The rebels will miss him but, like all of us, wish him every success.
In some recent e-mail news from across the 'pond' Kevin said that he is:

Having team practice for 1 ½ hours every day ,6 days a week.
Lifting four times a week, 1 ½ hours per session.
Running for 1 hour twice a week.
Practising for an hour with his coach twice each week.

His message, to aspiring basket ball champs, is to keep trying as it is "all it's cracked up to be " out in the U.S. of A. !

C.A.G.E.

The dust has NOT settled yet !
A new application is being lodged with Herts County Council to extend Rickney's quarry to mine 8 million tonnes of sand and gravel over a ten year period.
The aggregate companies believe their plans stand a better chance of success than previous applications as they do not involve land at nearby High Trees Farm, which Herts C.C. refuses to sell.
As County Councillor Simon Knott said "You have a community in Bengeo who have had to put up with seven years of having the sword of Damocles hanging over them"
Watch out for detailed newsletter from George Sandell.
Here we go again !

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH

As will be seen on the notice boards, two white males in blue overalls called on an elderly woman in Manor Close recently stating that they were from Age Concern.
She innocently let them in and discovered later that they had stolen some money.
Any clues as to the identity of these men please get in touch with the Police.
Please be vigilant !
When the 'sub- run' was made leaflets and door stickers were offered to those households who did not already have them displayed.
Plenty are still available.

LOCAL HISTORY

Malcolm Moulding has delighted readers with his various snippets of the history of our town.
In this he gives us a different perspective which will be of particular interest to anyone with any connection with publishing or printing:-

A HERTFORD PRINTER

My introduction to the printing trade in Hertford was when I was a paper boy at Roses newsagents shop (now the site of Taps and Oddbins shops). I first saw the old jobbing printing office up a ladder through a loft-hatch in the paper bay.
Through it was an ancient 'eagle' poster press. An old white haired printer and his apprentice produced dance tickets, wedding invitations, orders of service and posters on colourful deckled-edged cards and attractively trimmed paper. I was 'hooked' by the fascination of the craft from that time, although the old office itself vanished year ago.

Through it was an ancient 'eagle' poster press. An old white haired printer and his apprentice produced dance tickets, wedding invitations, orders of service and posters on colourful deckled-edged cards and attractively trimmed paper. I was 'hooked' by the fascination of the craft from that time, although the old office itself vanished year ago.

There were several printers in Hertford, the most notable being Simson Shand in Parliament Square, Creaseys in Bull Plain and Nicholson and Jermaynes in Tamworth Road and all played an important part in the town's industry. But my career was to begin with another notable firm Stephen Austin and Sons Ltd. at 1, Fore Street near the war memorial, where not only letterpress printing was carried out, as in others, but also printing of the Hertfordshire Mercury and of oriental and foreign languages.

I started there as an apprentice in 1954 and the system then in use for letterpress has all but vanished completely. It is because of such a change in the last forty years or so that I am writing of it now as industrial archaeology, no less !

The premises where I worked as an indentured apprentice, with many others together with journeymen compositors, readers, stonehands, pressmen, machine minders and binders as well as office staff and linotype, keyboard and caster operators. There were also 'clickers'(foremeu) and of course the directors, occupying five floors. It extended through into Maidenhead Street where the old offices of the ' Mercury' were situated. We kept our bicycles in the Blackbirds stables opposite and clocked in by punching a large brass handle on a huge clock.

In the basement at no. 1 Fore Street was a mighty Cossor Web newspaper printing press, which produced the ' Mercury' every week. On a Thursday night it was a hive of activity, and as boys we sometimes worked overtime helping with the paper. You could hear the rumble of the press and feel the vibration from the pavement above in Fore Street when it was running. On the ground floor above were Reading and Stereotyping departments and printing presses for general work. Up again on the first floor was the 'Jobbing Ship' (a 'ship' was a traditional name in printing) where one could see large formes of type prepared for local government reports, still using wooden quoins and shooting sticks to ' lock up' the pages , as they were, slip off the 'galleys' and on to the 'stone' to be untied ready for imposition. On the next, the third floor, was the' Bookship' with the adjoining typesetting keyboard department and typecasting department. The monotype keyboards performed a function now done by computers, like steam trains are to electric trains. They punched holes in paper spools by compressed air which drove the mechanical typesetting machines which chattered away producing the type from moulds and pots of molten lead into complete alphabets.

Compositors whisked away the 'galleys' of new type and quickly proofed them for the readers; after correction they were made up into pages, then ' imposed' (now called planning) into 'chases' (iron frames) which locked on the printing press and printed.

The 4th. floor produced magazines and the 5th floor was called the ' oriental' because it specialised in non-Latin languages, for which special training was required by the compositors.

In general terms this was the time of the beginning of the decline of the Golden Age of letterpress printing, although we were all blissfully unaware of it at the time. Within 25 years the craft of letterpress printing we knew would be completely obliterated. Gone would be the Victorian ' Cheltenham' and ' Gloucester' type cases and the more modern ' Times Roman' and ' Gill Sans' cases, together with leads, chases, formes, racks, stones, quoins, reglet, furniture, frames, page-cord, page-boards, quotes, galleys and wood letter. Composing sticks, thin and thick leads, lead and mitring cutters, the entire monotype and linotype systems, and the old 'Wharfedale', 'Miehle' and Heidelberg Cylinder presses, not to mention the Cossar.

Looking back now at the printing trade of the past in those terms, it holds nostalgia for me and my contemporaries, although the printing trade of today is more universal and cleaner in general with the computerisation of many of its functions.

Still, the ghosts of old journeymen must flit around the corridors of no. 1 Fore Street and other buildingswhere other apprentices began their working life under their tutelage, which earned them the well-deserved name of ' Master Printers'.

In his September newsletter he is appealing for help in producing the broadsheet.
Any offers ?- then please 'phone John on Hertford 589143.
If you are a member of his Association and wish to renew (at no cost to you !) it is important that you write or 'phone John, or Ray Turner (01920 870222). This also applies to those wishing to join.
If he does not hear from you your name will be deleted from the members list.

The committe are also looking into the question of the Redland paths both of which we hope will be kept open, and also the possible re-siting of the seats.

COURTYARD ARTS -COMMUNITY PROJECT

What Hertford has always needed ?
This Community Centre will enable groups and individuals to take part in a wide variety of arts activities in attractive surroundings.
The proposal is for the centre to be set up at the old stable block in Port Vale.
In 1991 a group of local residents formed an arts social group. Materials were free and many activities, including special workshops, were organised.
Childrens'art classes were held regularly as were exhibitions and social events which raised funds to subsidise the cost of hall hire and materials.
Wishing to expand their project they approached the Local Authority who suggested a lease on a proposed office conversion (The stables to Vale House, Port Vale) to which they agreed but are doing the restoration work themselves, a considerable saving on costs.
They have formed a non-profit making limited company, a charity, and will be signing the lease shortly, if contractor's tenders are acceptable.
Sadly, they failed in their application to the National Lottery but are hopeful they may yet obtain a grant.
Yes, this does seem to fulfill a need in Hertford, offering residents a venue for a wide range of activities, educational and leisure, with an arts gallery.
If anyone thinks they may be able to help in any way, by either donations or giving their time, please contact:

KAREN DELAHAY -H. 558045

Or, just go along to one of their meetings at Pioneer Hall, Ware Road on a Thursday eveuing from 8 - 10 p.m.(until the new centre is open).

Finally, a pause for thought :

Money is an expendable commodity, Good Friends and Neighbours are NOT !

Don't forget we are always looking for contributions (no - not the money type!) for this newsletter. See you in the Spring !
